Dear Annette: Thank you for identifying needed changes in FFHPVC Consortia memberships. You are correct that:

- 1) Champion International is now International Paper
- 2) Dragoco and Haarmann and Reimer combined to form Symrise
- 3) Givaudan is now Givaudan Fragrances Corporation.

Please update the membership list for appropriate HPV Consortia. Again, thanks for your assistance.

Regards,

Tim Adams, Ph.D.

Mr. Adams,

The membership issues below have come to our attention. We would very much appreciate your answering these questions for us.

The member list for The Flavor and Fragrance High Production Volume Consortia (FFHPVC) Terpene Consortium currently includes Champion International Corporation. It is our understanding that Champion International Corporation was acquired by International Paper in 2000 (http://www.internationalpaper.com/about\_us/information/centennial/timeline/timeline10.asp ). Would it be accurate to update the Terpene Consortium's member list to reflect International Paper as a member rather than Champion International Corporation?

FFHPVC Terpene Consortium has submitted test plans with DRAGOCO, Inc. as a member company and with Symrise as a member company. The FFHPVC Aromatic Consortium has submitted test plans with Haarmann & Reimer (H&R) as a member. It is our understanding that DRAGOCO, Inc. and Haarmann & Reimer (H&R) merged in 2003 to form Symrise. Would it be appropriate to change all membership references for either DRAGOCO, Inc. or Haarmann & Reimer (H&R) to reflect Symrise as a member instead?

We note that both Givaudan Corporation and Givaudan Fragrances Corporation have appeared as consortia member names for FFHPVC Terpene Consortium and Aromatic Consortium test plans. EPA has most recently been contacted by Dr. Barbara Lewis of 1775 Windsor Road, Teaneck NJ 07666 for Givaudan Fragrances Corporation. Does this seem correct to FFHPVC and is there any objection to standardizing all the Givaudan membership references to the single name Givaudan Fragrances Corporation?

Thank you.
